Iron ore discovery

IMX Resources has discovered more iron ore during drilling near its Cairn Hill project south-east of Coober Pedy.

The company stated yesterday significant widths of iron ore mineralisation had been intersected at four targets.

At the Bumblebee target, 15km south of Cairn Hill, new banded iron mineralisation up to 45m thick was intersected.

At Fitzgerald Dam, about 1km from the old Stuart Highway, up to 123m of magnetite was intersected.

Drilling at the sites is scheduled to resume late next month.
